

Change Management: Speed and Innovation

General objectives:

This course has a strong practical side, since practical cases will be presented for discussion or as a basis for exercises related to the processes of change and change management. The focus will be on the characteristics of the participants and their role in the process.

Specific objectives:

At the end of this course trainees will be able to:

- Understand the responsibilities of who leads processes of change and innovation
- Identify major barriers to change and create strategies to overcome resistance and uncertainty
- Identify the key components of change management
- Use a set of models to sustain the change process more efficiently

Target Audience:

General Directors, Quality or Personnel Directors, Departmental Directors or Officers, Managers or Leaders of Teams and / or Project, Managers and / or Human Resources Officials, Consultants.

Hours:

6 Hours

Program Contents:

1. The responsibility of a leader in change;
2. The major barriers to change and strategies to overcome resistance and uncertainty;
3. The main components of change management;
4. The usual models to sustain the process of change more efficiently.